FARM LIFE SHOULD ATTRACT CHILDREN

COUNTRY MUST BE MADE MORE ATTRACTIVE DR. CURTIS SAYS

HOME EQUIPMENT NEEDED

Farmer Should Spend As Much For His Wife—Speaks On Rural School Play

"If we are going to have a great American farm life, we have to make the country attractive enough so that people would rather live there than any other place in the world," said Dr. Henry S. Curtis, state director of physical education, to the students in vitalized agriculture at the State Teachers College this morning.

"The farmer must be willing to spend as much money for labor saving devices in his home as he does for labor saving devices in his fields," continued Dr. Curtis. As a general rule, he usually spends about $1500 for improved farm machinery and about $50 for conveniences in the home."

The speaker pointed out the fact that all of the farm life is dependent upon the farm wife. She must care for the family's needs, be a companion to her children and at the same time perform numerous duties around the farm, such as caring for the chickens, baby stock and looking after the milk and butter. Dr. Curtis contended that the rural social problem could not be solved unless the problem of the farm wife was solved first.

Dr. Curtis vividly contrasted the life of the French peasant with that of the American farmer. He told of the long hours that the peasant worked and called attention to the small number of acres owned. The average farm in France, Dr. Curtis said, contains about seven or eight acres, and most of the work was done by hand. There is about one horse to every three farms, he said, and one American farmer could do more work than ten or twelve French peasants.

"According to a study of the Country Life Commission, the greatest problem of rural life today is to keep the farmer on his farm," Dr. Curtis told the members of the class. "On the whole, the farmer has never learned to love the country. He does not love the song of the birds and he does not appreciate the beauty of the sunset. You, who are going out as teachers, should help the farm people see and appreciate the beauty of the country."

The coming of the automobile has provided means for the farmer to go places where he has been unable to go before. Dr. Curtis told his audience, and the farmer is now able to go any place that persons living in the city can go. There should be a system of county parks where people from the country can mingle with people from the city, he contended. This would provide a broader view of life for all. If the country is made attractive, it will be the most beautiful place to live, contended the state physical training director.

According to Dr. Curtis, farm homes should be equipped with tennis courts, volley ball courts, sand piles and other places where the children can play. The country school should be equipped with play apparatus also, he said. There should be at least two acres adjoining the schoolhouse where the children can play.

The teacher should take the pupils out to the spots of beauty and show them the grandeur of their own country, Dr. Curtis contended. In this way, the farm boys and girls would soon love the country so well that there would be no danger in their going to the city.

At 7:30 o'clock Dr. Henry S. Curtiss lectured to the Rural school teachers on the subject of the rural school playgrounds. Dr. Curtis had a chart drawing of an ideal school ground. The ground was three acres and contained besides the regular plot for games and play purposes an indoor baseball diamond, volley ball court, running track, jumping plot, tennis court and sand pile.

The equipment which the ground should include was horizontal bars, see-saw, teter pole, and swing, he said.

Dr. Curtis said that this ideal ground could be constructed on any playground. He also stated that the teacher should take part in all of the games with the children.

For the elementary grades an athletic badge should be offered as a reward for superior athletes. County tournaments in indoor baseball, dodge ball and track events should be encouraged but there should be no basketball, or baseball for pupils of this age. It is too strenuous a game and the pupils are too liable to injuries.

The playground should be surrounded by two rows of trees for protection and shade. The pupils would also be encouraged in keeping the grounds clean and beautiful.

At least one-half an hour a day should be devoted to play for the entire school. This should be in addition to the regular setting up exercises which are held indoors.

PETTY THIEVES INFEST COUNTY

MANY THEFTS REPORTED IN NORTHWEST MISSOURI.

AT WILCOX AND BARNARD

There is more petty thieving going on at the present time in this county and Northwest Missouri than ever before, according to the county authorities. Money, chickens, pigs, fruits and other articles are reported as having been taken from many of the homes over the county. It is said that so many chickens in the Skidmore community have been stolen that the people there have formed a vigilance organization. The chicken stealing is not only in that community but general over the county.

Sheriff Roach is of the opinion that many of the tourists who are without money and bumming their way through the country, are the ones responsible for this condition. The sheriff said they are known as automobile tramps. Many of these men are well experienced in the stealing business and are professionals.

Sheriff Roach receive dword this morning that a motor meter and headlight were taken off of the Ford car of Ralph Brogan of Wilcox last night. There are no clues.

Last Saturday the Hargrave drug store of Barnard was entered and about $2.50 in change in the cash register was taken. Entrance to the drug store was gained through a window in the rear of the store.

At Parnell on the night of July 9, five houses were entered and four of them were robbed of money, clothing and jewelry and at one home the robber or robbers had an early breakfast.

The Parnell robbery is very similar to the robbery of the five homes in Maryville on Tuesday night. The authorities think it was done by the same party or parties. As yet no tangible clues have been found. They are convinced it was not done by amateurs but by professionals.

It was reported to authorities this morning that a prowler was seen at the home of J. S. Whitehead on South Walnut street, early yesterday morning. The prowler was seen going out the back door when Mr. Whitehead got up to turn on the light.

It was also discovered this morning that a bicycle had been taken from the home of L. L. Clary night before last when the prowlers were there. The bicycle was found this morning at the end of South Buchanan street where it had been abandoned when the muddy road was reached.

SWIMS 33 MILES ACROSS LAKE ERIE

FEAT PERFORMED BY Y. M. C. A. SWIMMER

TRIP TOOK 20 HOURS

Swimmer Immediately Went To Sleep —Complained Of Pains In Legs and Said "Never Again!"

Loraine, Ohio, Aug. 2—Carbis Walker, Cleveland Y. M. C. A. swimmer, landed here this morning after having swam across Lake Erie from Point Pelee Ontario, a distance of thirty-three miles. This was the first time that such a swimming feat had ever been performed.

Walker left Point Pelee at 9:15 o'clock yesterday morning. He arrived here at 5:15 a. m. today and immediately went to sleep. He awoke four hours later and complained of severe pains in his legs.

"I will never attempt it again," he said as he awoke.

Following Walker's safe arrival, an airplane, piloted by William Long of Loraine, put out to sea in an effort to locate the launch, Argus, which was first reported accompanying Walker and a rowboat carrying five companions. The Argus was not seen by any member of the party and it was feared that it became lost or was disabled and the five passengers drowned.

Loraine, Ohio, Aug. 2—The gasoline launch, Argus, with five passengers aboard safe and well, arrived here at 11 o'clock this morning. The boat became lost in the fog on the lake and developed engine trouble as well. The Argus was following Carbis Walker, Y. M. C. A. swimmer, who swam across Lake Erie.

Half Minute Interviews

The question asked today:

The State Teachers College today is closing the most successful term in its history with an enrollment of 1361. What can Maryville do to help in its continued growth?

L. B. Tracy, Yehle Dry Goods Company: "Better homes seem to me to be the big thing. Anything that we can do to make Maryville a better town with a better moral influence will help more than anything else we can do."

D. E. Hotchkin, Hotchkin Store: "Build medium price houses to rent. We need more room of the proper kind for the students."

H. L. Raines, Raines Jewelry Store: "Just boost for the College. Individually I boost for it every time I get a chance."

F. R. Marcell, photographer: "Tell the tsory in movies. Tell the people of the district visually what we have here. They like to be shown—show them."

Advises Early Work for Alfalfa Bed

John M. Davis of Hopkins Will Prepare Bed About the Middle of Month—Double Discing Field

John M. Davis of Hopkins is preparing for about six acres of alfalfa this fall. His hay crop was harvested a few days ago, and he is preparing the seed bed for the alfalfa without plowing.

Davis is going to double-disc the field both ways and believes that he will have the seed bed well prepared o ntop and that it will be solid underneath. These are two necessary conditions for alfalfa R. A. Kinnaird, county farm agent, said this morning.

Mr. Davis can prepare the seed bed quicker that way and will be able to sow the seed as soon as there is enough moisture in the ground, after the middle of August, and he will avoid killing which results when seeding is delayed on account of not being able to plow and prepare the seed.. When the ground is plowed late, there is nearly always a loose and open condition of the soil. It cannot be worked down and packed unless the land can be plowed early so that it has plenty of time to settle, and a great deal of work can be put on the field to pack it down. Thorough discing is the better method to prepare the seed bed on wheat or oats ground.

Mr. Davis will innoculate the seed with culture obtained from the department of soils of the University of Missouri.

JULY WEATHER NEAR AVERAGE

TEMPERATURE SHOWED CONSIDERABLE VARIATION

HIGHEST 98, LOWEST 56

Precipitation Was 2.81 Inches—It Rained 20.22 Inches In July 1915

The temperature for the month just passed was just a little above the average with a considerable variation and the precipitation was about normal, according to the monthly weather summary compiled by J. R. Brink, weather observer. The highest temperature was 98 degrees and lowest, 56 degrees with a variation of 42 degrees during the month. This lacked 10 degrees of being the hottest July day on record and lacked 7 degrees of being the lowest on record.

Highest temperature during month, 98 degrees on July 10; highest on record, 108 on July 5, 1911.

Lowest temperature during month 56 on July 2, lowest on record was July 27, 1920 when it was 49.

The normal monthly temperature was 75.5. The monthly mean for July this year was 77.3 or 1.8 degrees above normal. The highest monthly mean on record is 84.2 which was registered in 1901. The lowest monthly mean 70.2 in 1895.

Precipitation during the month, 2.81; highest precipitation on record, 20.22 inches in 1915; lowest on record, .67 of an inch in 1917.

W. S. Belden, St. Joseph observer, in his report stated that the prevailing wind direction was southeast and the average hourly velocity was approximately 5.4 miles. This is next to the lightest July wind movement ever registered at the bureau there. The maximum velocity was only 22 miles an hour. The report also said that there was 79 per cent of the possible amount of sunshine.

ENGLAND READY TO ACT ALONE

WILL TELL THE WORLD OF ITS REPARATION PLANS

UNEASINESS IN PARIS

In Financial Circles Franc Dropped to New Low Level—Diplomatic Circles Easier.

Developments in the Reparations Crisis

Great Britain has announced its determination to publish her reparations correspondence with France in hope of forcing world-wide pressure for settlement.

While the British, French and Belgian reparation notes have not been made public, it is understood that the differences show the following:

France:—Demands cessation of passive resistance in the Ruhr before reparations negotiations are opened; insists on the retention of French troops in the Ruhr until Germany pays; opposes the appointment of an international commission to determine what Germany must pay.

Great Britain:—Suggests the appointment of a reparations commission to fix the exact amount of German reparations and the method of paying; favors a more lenient policy toward Germany and the restoration of German industries and mills.

Paris, Aug. 2—Possibility that Premier Stanley Baldwin of England would announce a break with France on the reparations issue led to excited trading on the Bourch today. The franc fell to a new low level in history, selling at 17.51 for one United States dollar.

Despite the gloom in financial circles, political circles were optimistic with the feeling that Premier Baldwin would order further negotiations with France.

London, Aug. 2—Official statements in Parliament today indicated that Great Britain would appeal to the world for a settlement of the Ruhr-reparations issue. It is possible that this may prove the first step towards independent British Action.

The Allied negotiations are deadlocked and the British are seeking outside pressure to force France to show its hand. Premier Baldwin, in the House of Commons, and Lord Curzon in the House of Lords, made identical statements on the reparations problem. They did not reveal whether Great Britain intended to negotiate separately and both avoided any mention of the possibility of a break with France.

The statements indicated that Britain would wait the world's re-action to today's position before taking the next step. Both statements declared that France and Belgium reparations note to the British had no hope of a joint answer to Germany's proposal of June 7, or of an early settlement to the problems. Lord Curzon and Premier Baldwin said the British will make public its reparations not to show the world its endeavor to bring about a settlement.

Hope was expressed that action might be taken at once as it is imperative for prompt united action. Lord Curzon emphasized the need when he said:

"It is apparent that many weeks might easily be consumed in preliminary exchange of opinion between the Allies before any effective steps could be formulated upon the present situation." Great Britain, while regarding the interests of the Allies, is bound up with her own, and while shrinking from any action that might be thought inimical to the Allied union, yet holds firm to the view that prompt action is imperative.

Viscount Gray, former foreign secretary, who followed Lord Curzon in the upper house, characterized the situation as "very grave."

In the House Ramsey MacDonald, Laborite, and leader of the opposition expressed disappointment over the nature of the French and Belgian reply. He was cheered as he finished.

"The government is to be praised for dropping the negative policy," he said, "clearly France is not in the Ruhr for reparations.

"We are compelled to view France's policy as a warlike feeling not satisfied with the results of the great war. She is attempting to continue the war after peace."

Mrs. Richards was the sole support of four children, one of whom, a boy, 14, recently lost his leg when he was run over by a train.

Sale of Chautauqua Tickets Is Lagging

407 Adult and 49 Children Tickets Yet To Sell—Saving To Buy Season Ticket

Maryville is 407 adult tickets and 49 children's tickets short of its guaranteed goal, the local committee announced this morning following a check-up of the tickets so far sold. The sales last night totalled 231 adult tickets and 38 children's tickets. This makes only about a third of the way to their goal with three days left before chautauqua opens. The committee reports that some districts are buying equally as well as last year, while others are lagging considerably behind. If Maryville shows a deficit the guarantors will have to make it up and it is almost certain that the town will be taken from the Redpath-Vawter circuit.

That it will mean a saving to buy a season ticket if one plans to attend many of the programs has been figured out by the committee. They have figured it will cost $6.60 in single admissions to attend all programs, $4.00 to attend just the night programs. In looking the program over to select musical numbers no four can be heard for less than $2.50 and no four of the better lectures can be heard for less the same price. The season tickets are $2.25 now and none will be sold after 4 o'clock Sunday.

E. F. Kearney, chautauqua property man, has arrived in Maryville from Newton, Ia., and states that the seats, chairs, and other equipment has been shipped here. T. F. Graham, superintendent at Kirksville, who will act in a similar capacity here, is expected tomorrow. The chautauqua will be held on the high school grounds.

Young Man, 21, Found Dead in St. Louis

St. Louis, Aug. 2—Walter Dahm, 21 who police say was a member of the "cuckoo" gang, was found shot to death in an alley here today. One bullet wound was found just below his heart and other in his back. A powder puff and a letter signed Esther Petrie, of West Allis, Wis., were found in his pockets. The police believe that Dahm had been shot elsewhere and the body taken in an auto to the spot where it was found.

Police believe that Dahm had just returned from a visit to Wisconsin.

WITH FEVER GONE HARDING IMPROVES

MOST OPTIMISTIC BULLETIN ISSUED THIS MORNING

TO CAPITAL NEXT WEEK

If Improvement Continues Return Trip May Be Made Then—May See Visitors Today

San Francisco, Aug. 2—By far the most optimistic bulletin that has yet come from President Harding's sick room was issued at 9:50 o'clock this morning by the staff of five physicians attending him.

It was announced that the President had a restful night and that his condition today showed a marked improvement over yesterday. The pneumonic condition, which has been the chief source of concern was definitely improved today and his pulse and respiration was more nearly normal.

The text of the announcement follows:

"The President had several hours of restful sleep during the night and with the exception of the marked exhaustion he expressed himself as feeling easier this morning. His temperature was 98.2, pulse 100, and respiration from 32 to 40. The lung condition shows definite progress. Small amounts of food are being taken and elimination is satisfactory."

The physicians again today emphasized the extreme exhaustion of the President since it was necessary to flush his system with purgatives to rid him of the poison left by the ptomaine, as the one barrier for his speedy return to "normalcy."

Following the optimistic announcement this morning, it is more probable than ever, barring setbacks, that the chief executive may possibly start his return trip to Washington next week. It is probable that he will be allowed to see some visitors today besides members of his family. Attorney-General Daugherty, Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and others of the President's official family, may be permitted late today or tomorrow.

San Francisco, Aug. 2—President Harding had another restful night and continued to make marked improvement on his road to recovery, it was announced at 8 o'clock this morning by Dr. Charles E. Sawyer.

The President awoke early this morning after a restful sleep and was without any trace of fever. His temperature at 8 o'clock this morning was 98.8, his respiration 36, and his pulse, 110, all reflecting improvement over the previous bulletin late yesterday.

The President had a restful night, said Dr. Sawyer, after he and Dr. Boone had completed a preliminary examination of the patient between 7 o'clock and 8 o'clock this morning. Now that the President's temperature is down to normal, it has been his respiration and pulse that have been giving the doctors considerable thought, as both have been abnormally high.

Over night, however, there was an appreciable drop in both and the physicians were much elated over the improvement.

(Yesterday the President's pulse varied from 116 to 120 and this morning it had dropped to 110.

His respiration varied yesterday from 36 to 40 and this morning's examination revealed it as now being 36. Both pulse and respiration are still too high, they pointed out.

After a preliminary examination this morning by Drs. Boone and Sawyer the medical staff gathered for their usual morning consultation, after which a bulletin will be issued.

Mr. Harding slept the early part of the night and awoke early and called Dr. Boone, who was on duty in an adjoining room. The President chatted freely and appeared in excellent spirits.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Baughman and sons, Max and Jack of St. Louis, who have been visiting Mr. Baughman's sister, Mrs. Frank T. Hall and family, left yesterday for their home.

France seems to feel toward the United States about like the average fellow feels toward the man who holds a mortgage on his car.

According to a life insurance expert thin persons live longer than fat ones. This is perhaps because the fat ones live so much more while they do live.

Hot winds have struck the Kansas corn crop and are doing great damage. Missouri may be thankful that it does not have the hot winds of Kansas to destroy a good crop after it is raised.

Whether gasoline is selling for more than it should, we have no way of knowing, but the unnecessary multiplication of gasoline selling stations makes the cost of distribution unnecessarily great. That much stands to reason.

Henry Ford is quoted in an interview as saying, "I am not a candidate for anything. I can't imagine myself today as accepting any nomination." It is barely possible that some professional campaign managers have done more thinking about his running for the presidency than Henry has himself.

St. Louis is facing a new race problem. Hundreds of negroes from the South are said to be flocking into St. Louis each week for some reason, probably the hope of high wages. They are coming without notice and the city is hardly prepared to house them. The sections of the city already occupied by residents of the colored race are overflowing and to increase the number is to endanger the health of those there by overcrowding and want of sanitation. The city is calling for a commission to solve the problem.

The St. Louis papers have announced an advance from five to ten cents for their Sunday editions. The expected reduction in costs failed to materialize and they are returning to the higher price. Not only city but country papers are being produced at the highest cost ever known and those who attempt to give their readers a paper worth while are compelled to charge a price commensurate with the costs.

The people of this country all join in the universal hope that President Harding's illness may be brief and that his complete recovery may be announced shortly. Mr. Harding has undertaken a long trip and a very trying one that would seriously tax the strength and endurance of a younger man. For more than a month he has been constantly on the move, meeting new people, making speeches and consulting about various problems of nation-wide importance. All of this constitutes a tremendous drain on both his physical and mental resources. He has of course been well cared for, but a President of the United States is human after all and his endurance is limited.

Forty-five people lost their lives Sunday as a result of grade crossing accidents. One train on the Pennsylvania railroad that was late because of a crossing accident in Illinois in which four were killed, ran into another auto on a crossing in Indiana and killed eight. Steel cars, air brakes, block signals, etc., have all contributed during recent years to reducing railroad wrecks and accidents to the minimum but the automobile has introduced a new problem that must be dealt with in the near future. There should be no crossing where the railroad track both ways is not in full view at all times. This means that all hedge fences, timber, corn, weeds or other thing that obstructs the view should be cut down. Embankments should be graded off and sharp turns in the roads should be avoided. Even then there will be enough who will forget to look and listen at crossings to make up an appalling casualty list each year. The Missouri Highway Commission is doing the public a good service in insisting that all grade crossings be eliminated wherever possible.

The violent finish of Pancho Villa goes to show that a man cannot devote his life to making trouble for others, an dexpect to escape it all himself. Even the kaiser, you will recall, lost his throne and contracted a second marriage.—Oklahoma City Times.

ENGELMANN'S QUALITY GLADIOLUS

Visitors the last few days who had previously visited the large plantings of gladiolus in St. Joseph, Nebraska City, Shenandoah and Waterloo say they are surprised at both the quality and variety of our gladiolus. We have taken many orders for bulbs for spring 1924 delivery. We have been surprised at the number of people who travel through here that stop and look our gladiolus over. At least 85% of our visitors have been people who travel and have previously seen other plantings. The Gladioli is the leading summer cut flower for any occasion. They can be apropriately arranged for any occasion. Reasonable in price. Engelmann's for Quality.

Every Day There Is Something New

arriving at Geiss & Richards Hardware Store.

And all this new merchandise is absolutely up-to-date, most of it nationally advertised goods.

The Royal Rochester Ware, now on display at the store, is a fine example of the quality of the merchandise Geiss & Richards are getting in. The Royal Rochester Heat-Proof China, is another example.

Geiss & Richards are paying cash for all this new merchandise; this means they are saving themselves the amount of the discount. The discount will make itself felt in the lessing of the retail price to the consumer. This buying policy has resulted in an additional slogan for Geiss & Richards which is, "The less we pay for it, the less it will cost you."

The plan which has made this buying policy possible is "pay cash and get more," the trade slogan of Geiss & Richards Hardware, Maryville, Mo.

CHANGE OF LIFE LOSES TERRORS

For Women Who Rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Greenville, Pa.—"I took your medicine through the Change of Life and it did wonders for me. I was down in bed when I started to take it and weighed 95 pounds. I had hot flashes and was so nervous and weak that everything would get black and I could not see. I would sit and cry and did not know what I was crying for. Since I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel younger than I did ten years ago, and my friends all tell me I look younger, and I owe it all to the Vegetable Compound. I do all my housework for a family of seven now. I will be glad to answer any woman who writes me in regard to my case."—Mrs. JOHN MYERS, 55 Union St., Greenville, Pa.

Many letters similar to this have been published testifying to the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They are sincere expressions from women who describe as best they can their feelings before and after taking this well-known medicine.

Many times they state in their letters their willingness to answer women who write them. It is an offer dictated by gratitude and a desire to help others.

Oil Man Says He Will Drill Soon

(Barnard Bulletin)

C. M. Watson, oil man, who has been prospecting for oil in Barnard community, came to Barnard late Thursday of last week, accompanied by a geologist, A. L. Paragon, and Dr. J. H. Atkinson of Omaha, who was interested in the oil development in Oklahoma.

After resting Thursday evening, the men made a trip over their leases Friday morning. Friday afternoon a second trip was made, during which time a location of the test well was made. Mr. Paragon, the geologist, stated that the prospects were good for a paying well here.

"I have been over the leases," said Mr. Paragon, "and I find the indications very favorable for oil. There are three very likely spots for the test well. Of course, I cannot give out where I shall locate the well at this time but will make the location this afternoon."

Mr. Watson has been very ill in Wyoming, which has caused the delay in getting his driller on the ground. An extension of the leases for ninety days was secured, which extends them ninety days from June 1, 1923, or up till September 1. Mr. Watson looked somewhat ill but stated he was better than during his stay in Wyoming.

"I shall drill for oil as soon as possible to get to it," said Watson Friday, a location of the well will be made today. I can't tell where it will be located for obvious reasons. Tell the people it has already cost me a lot of money on this proposition but I am going to drill. I have made promises I have been unable to fulfil on account of sickness, so I will not say when we will start, but I will begin just as soon as I can get to it. The people here seem to be behind the proposition and the indications are very favorable for a good well."

Watson and his party left Saturday for Omaha, expecting to return to Barnard shortly and take up active work in sinking the test well.

Child-birth

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says:

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA 46, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

WHOM TO MARRY?

Thomas Meighan Has Problem in "The Man Who Saw Tomorrow"

The question of whom to marry would be easily answered by any person with the vision given to "The Man Who Saw Tomorrow," Thomas Meighan's new Paramount picture showing at the Empire Theatre Friday and Saturday nights.

Mr. Meighan, playing th epart of Burke Hammond, a wild son of a distinguished English family, roams the South seas until, upon a lonely island he falls in love with an old pirate's daughter. No sooner has he won her affection than he is involuntarily carried away abpard a yacht to New York. Hammond does not forget his South Sea beauty. He writes, telling her he will return some day. Meanwhile, his father arrives in New York with a proposition that the young Englishman marry an heiress. She appears and, to make things harder, also comes the girl from the South Sea island.

Whom to marry? Hammond is helped by a professor who shows what would happen if he married the heiress and then what would happen if he married the pirate's daughter. So Hammond came to earn the title of "The Man Who Saw Tomorrow." How he sees "Tomorrow" forms perhaps the most engrossing part of this altogether entrancing picture. Leatrice Joy plays opposite the star.

C. J. Colden Named on Harbor Commission

Former Maryvillian Selected On San Pedro, Cal., Commission Recently

Charles J. Colden, formerly a resident of Maryville, has been named a member of the Harbor Commission at San Pedro, Cal. The commission has about 750 employees, a pay roll exceeding a million dollars per year, has fifteen millions just voted for improvements. The tonnage at San Pedro Harbor has multiplied four times in a year and has been running San Francisco a close race, exceeding that city for several months.

The San Pedro Daily News had in part the following about the appointment which was made by the mayor of Los Angeles:

Chas. J. Colden, President of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce and prominently known civic worker, was today named by Mayor George E. Cryer to take the chair of retiring Commissioner Chas. E. Richards on the Board of Harbor Commissioners. It is expected that the Harbor Committee of the City Council will act on the matter tomorrow and unanimously agree on the mayor's selection of the San Pedro man.

An editorial in the same issue had the following:

Important news came out of the City Hall in Los Angeles today; news doubly significant. A distinguished citizen of San Pedro has been justly honored and the voice of our people has been finally recognized.

Mayor George E. Cryer, loyal and faithful friend of San Pedro, has submitted to City Council the name of Charles J. Colden as the former's choice to fill the vacancy on the Board of Harbor Commissioners, resulting from the expiration of the term of office of Commissioner Charles E. Richards.

Mayor Cryer is to be congratulated on the wisdom he has shown in selecting one of our citizens as a member of a board in which this city is most vitally interested and concerned. Since the annexation in 1909 San Pedro has had no direct voice in the conduct of its harbor affairs. The action of the mayor indicates that the government is being returned to the people and that Taxation Without Representation Has Been Unjust.

Making Arrangements for DeMolay Meeting

Meeting Will Be Held Next Tuesday Night To Select Delegates From Maryville Chapter

Extensive arrangements are now being made for the Missouri State Conclave of DeMolay chapters, which will be held in Springfield August 29, 30 and 31.

A meeting will be held next Tuesday night to select delegates from the Maryville chapter of DeMolay.

The coming state conclave is given under the auspices of Farnsworth Chapter, Order of DeMolay. It has not been definitely decided where the three day session will be held, but the auditorium of the State Teachers College and Convention Hall are being considered as suitable locations.

It was believed last summer, at the time Springfield made a bid for the 1923 convention that it could be held in the Abou Ben Adhem Shrine Mosque, but this structure will not be completed by that time.

Peculiar Egg

Mrs. George Rasco, Sr., of Barnard has a peculiar egg layed last week. It was an exceptionally large egg, measuring 7½ inches in circumference one way and 8 inches the other. Upon breaking the egg, a second egg was found perfect in formation and natural in size.—Barnard Bulletin.

The dog was killed and its head brought to Dr. S. Aldridge for examination. Negri Bodies, indicative of rabies were found, and Dr. Aldridge says the case is positive. Pastuer treatment has been ordered and Baker wil lbegin this treatment immediately upon its arrival.

Mr. F. P. Reuillard,
Maryville, Mo.

Dear Mr. Reuillard:

Lately we have heard a great deal of agitation about the bread being shipped into Maryville from St. Joseph and other towns and I want to state to you that I consider the bread baked by you lately to be far superior in quality and flavor to any bread that I have ever bought regardless of where it comes from.

I believe that if people in general will give your present bread a fair trial that they won't want any other kind.

Yours very truly,

A Maryville Bread User.

P. S. We heartily thank the writer for this voluntary expression.—F. P. Reuillard.
